

About Us

Foxes Hotel is a very special place. Situated in a delightful seaside location it is the UK's only training hotel for young adults with learning disabilities.

Established around 20 years ago by our founders Susan Jenkins and Maureen Tyler-Moore MBE, we provide vocational training in a beautiful hotel.

Training is provided within key areas of hospitality and catering. Our trained tutors give support and guidance to our students, enabling them to leave Foxes Academy with qualifications to help them gain employment.

Both staff and learners endeavour to look after all your needs, ensuring that your holiday is relaxing in every way.
